"Accommodations"

a film by

Mikos Zavros

Logline: Why do you work here?

Synopsis: Two hungry guys want to eat, but when the restaurant they patronize makes accommodations for their waitstaff's individual creeds, simple service erupts into a logistical nightmare.

Company Profile: Jungle Ethics Productions is the brainchild of Mikos, who created it after spinning off from NoRemake Pictures. Jungle Ethics Productions aims to create smart, socially challenging projects still possessing high-entertainment value. Accommodations is the 3rd directing effort by Mikos and has already won for best director in the 9Fest Film festival, Thailand. Other festivals are pending as of the writing of this EPK.

About the director: Ethnically Greek, culturally Japanese artist Mikos Zavros, is an actor, writer, director and producer . The bulk of his training has come from the Australian Institute of Dramatic Arts, where a wide variety of techniques were part of the curriculum. He is originally from Baltimore, MD, moving to LA to fully immerse himself in the industry. An optioned writer, his acting has been seen world wide, including South Africa, Italy, Monaco, Pakistan, Iran, Iraq, Thailand, Kuala Lumpur, Indonesia and the Americas. His recent win with Accommodations at an international film festival has solidified him as and up an coming director. His current business venture includes producing a feature with his partners, Kristen Gortitz and Alexander Arturo Garcia at Strange Worlds Production Studios.
